The Co-operation

The concept of co-operation is old as human society. It is the basis of domestic and social life. Science may point out the way to survival and happiness of all mankind through love and co-operation. Co-operation is derived from the Latin word “Co-operari”, ‘Co’ means “with” and ‘operari’ means “to work”. Hence co-operation means working Together with others for a common purpose. Aristotle, a Philosopher of Ancient Greece, recognized the social nature of man when he said, “Man is a Social Animal”. Man cannot lead a happy and contented life if he lives in isolation. Therefore, there is a great need for Co-operation, which can be considered as the basic principle underlying human life. The word Co-operation literally means Working Together or Act Together. The basic idea behind Co-operation is “Self Help and Mutual Help” and “Mutual Aid” and “Each for all and all for each”.
